Notes

This is Digitalfire Desktop INSIGHT, an interactive ceramic glaze chemistry calculator. It is free-of-charge to account holders at <http://insight-live.com>.

Desktop Insight has been available since 1982. For decades it has helped technicians, educators, students and potters around the world establish links between between the chemistry of their fired glazes and enamels and their physical properties (e.g. hardness, resistance to leaching, color, thermal expansion, melting temperature, etc.) Insight-live.com is the next generation, it adds all the advantages of being online and accessible from any HTML5 device plus many more capabilities, ones that focus much more on measuring and comparing physical properties. Desktop Insight was about the chemistry, Insight-live is about the data. While it is possible to use desktop Insight with DropBox, Google Drive, SkyDrive, iCloud we definitely recommend that you use insight-live if your data needs to be accessible from more than one computer.

This version uses the same data files as any version since 2009. It installs in a different folder and does not affect any previous version installed. Uninstall previous versions when you are sure you want this. Tell your browser to download the installer to your desktop and then open it to start the install process.
